Mr. Cross,

Please note that my emails and videos are an offer of reconciliation and a request for communications. There has been confession, repentance, exposition of Scripture, and an offer of grace and love. It appears your responses are self-defense, ad hominum attacks on me, and a refusal for direct dialog or contending on the Scripture presented.

There have been many specific questions to you, such as my request for a phone dialog, and you haven't had the courtesy of offering a reply. The offer remains on the table.

You seem to be stating now that there are requests of me from my wife, but you also previously stated that no more requests will be made. Which is it?

You suggested about a year ago that Dorothy-Jane offer a list of things to consider my help on. I responded with an opening for further dialog. The conversation was abandoned, my offers ignored, and I am accused of not being supportive. Do you see the logical flaw here?

There are now a list of videos specifically to you that are public at <http://family.kozlowski.org/Family,JimSr>. I don't think it is hard to find in there an effort on my part to try to deal with you as a brother contending for the truth and reconciliation. Yet you refuse to address any serious point and only write libelous remarks. I remain open to dialog. Are you?

As to "getting real":

- Consider the voicemail of yesterday: <http://family.kozlowski.org/Voicemail-2017-07-13>.
- Consider my effort to restore communications with my wife, my children, and you.
- Consider my appeal of grace and reconciliation made in the "Naming Names" video (<http://family.kozlowski.org/2017-02-25>) that you have not addressed.
- Consider the numerous financial offers made to my kids that have been simply ignored.
- Consider the offer made in "In our rut" (<http://family.kozlowski.org/2017-07-02+3>). Do you see the love here?
- Consider "Isaac - My Encouragement" (<http://family.kozlowski.org/2017-07-04+2>). Do you see wisdom and love in my words?
- Consider 'Gal 2:14 "before them all"' (<http://family.kozlowski.org/2017-06-24>). Do you see this as a threat, or as love? Do you see a man seeking to be obedient to the Lord, or can you point out any point from Scripture in the video that I am "living a lie"?

Yesterday I finally installed updated video editing tools on my computer and am coming up to speed on using them. My effort to present my offer of reconciliation "before them all" is progressing. I hope you will see this as an act of love.

One day both you and I will go to the grave. Before that day arrives, it would be wonderful to be able to claim each other as brothers. Are you willing to pursue that?

Respectfully,

John Kozłowski

Actually, John, five years ago your wife called me and asked me to help her take care of herself and your children since they were not enough of a priority to you to take care of them. You were letting others do that. In fact, I was the one who met your landlord that day and paid the debt that you owed to him.

She asked me to do that in hopes that you would change course and start to care for them. That hasn't happened right up to this moment, and that doesn't look at all like love to me. If that's your version of love, she and I don't want or need any of it.

You are now and have been living a lie. You say one thing, but your actions betray your words!!!

Get real!

Jim

Family,

5 years ago today, about this hour, I found my wife wanted to exit my life. In the last 5 years, she has not had a serious conversation with me and it hurts deeply. However, my love for her has only grown, and I will continue to do what I can to restore that wonderful gift the Lord gave us both.

I am composing an email to send to all those in the “Naming Names” video in an effort to reconcile one or more relationships. It was my intent to send it today, but work issues have distracted me. But since it is the anniversary, I thought it would be good to bring you up to date.

I expressed my intent in the ‘Gal 2:14 “before them all”’ video (<http://family.kozłowski.org/2017-06-24>). Today’s video is attached and also at <http://family.kozłowski.org/2017-07-12>. For reference the “Naming Names” video is at <http://family.kozłowski.org/2017-02-25>.

You might find informative a recent discussion on “Preparing our kids to contend” (<http://family.kozlowski.b:280/2017-06-29+2>), “Holding Jobs” (<http://family.kozlowski.b:280/2017-07-02+1>), and “Isaac - My Encouragement” (<http://family.kozlowski.b:280/2017-07-04+2>) that I would like to share with all my sons.

My study of how contention defines love, and recently clarity on Gal 2:14 and 1Tim 5:20, plus the obvious love for my wife and kids, implores me to press on with renewed vigor and direction in another attempt to restore all or part of my family. To follow Christ, to love, there is no other option.

Please join me in this effort.
