Walter,

You are obviously on my mind and in my heart today a bit more than you are always and every day. There has long been an ache in my heart to know you more and it is only growing. It remains my prayer that we can spend some quantity time together to do so soon.

Yes, I plan on sending you a card and a disc, but decided to delay it due to what happened yesterday. It was a rather big deal to me to spend about two hours with three Mormons in a café discussing theology. My desire was to do a short video on it that day, but it turned out over 40 minutes. The video, "Two Ladies, Two Mormon Elders, and Me" (<http://kozlowski.org/2019-11-12+2>) is online, but I wanted you to have it on disc. So your card, from Dadmark Cards of course, was delayed so that video can be included. I really hope you and our family will find it worthwhile.

It is my desire to be part of molding you into the kind of person who could take on the challenge that I did yesterday with wisdom and grace. It is my prayer that the Lord will do that irrespective of our circumstances.

Walter, my son, I love you! Happy Birthday!

Happy Birthday Walter! I want to know you
