Walter,

On the day of your birthday this year I was still basking in the joy of my meeting with three Mormons the day before. While I have not seen the two “elders” since, I do see the young lady, Crystal. She is the one who give me a couple slices of squash pie that was marvelous. Our conversion continues.

My friend Cory in Utah also continues in dialog with me, including today. We are in a serious discussion of the veracity of the Bible verses the Book of Mormon. We disagree, but we are in dialog. It would be my joy to prepare you to do the same, rationally and lovingly.

I did make a disc for you to send the video I did about our meeting. But it was set in front of me and I had in mind that it needed to be sent.

Then I got distracted.

Then I was distracted more.

And after further distraction, I did send the disc today, and with it a high quality birthday card.

You should be able to see the video with the Mormons at “\@Y2019\@M11\@D12\@a2\Kozlowski@2019-11-12+2~720.mp4”. It would be a wonderful joy to review it with you. It is probably a bit weightier than you will hear on a Sunday morning.

Walter, my son, I love you!
