Subject: WikiLeaks – ShofarLeaks – And the photo

Family,

Because the extradition trail of Julian Assange started yesterday in London, RT released a documentary “The Assange Story” <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=630X89TbI74>

It is 55 minutes and very well done. I suggest it gives important insight as to things going on today and is an indicator of changes occurring in the world society and freedom in general. It will impact my kids directly in years to come. You will have to say the modern version of “hail victory” or have a solid reason why you do not. That reason is the Lord Jesus Christ.

But then there is a rather uncomfortable photo. While it is easy to find, it was sent directly to me by a Muslim in Europe in 2013. This has been the symbol in my mind that connects me to what is happening in London. This is not fluff. I wanted to give my family a short explanation, but it turned out to be 23 minutes. I haven’t learned the meaning of short.

The last 7 plus years have been full of discouragement as my effort to reconcile my family has yet to yield the desired results, but I press on. However, in those years, by the grace of the Lord, I have been extremely busy. I have not turned a callous eye to the photo below or the literally thousands like it. I have been trying to love. Care to join me?

The video was a bit big to include in this email. Please feel free to download it Wednesday and I will delete the records before they are viewed so I won’t know who does it.
