George and family,

I took my typical hike yesterday and saw Big Frog Mountain in the distance again and thought about George. I attempted to beat my best time in the Greenway and missed by about 10 seconds, but thought about George. I thought of the tie I sent him for his birthday and the love I attempted to express to him in his birthday card, both of which were returned to me "unclaimed". I was reminded of the now two dozen plus videos that were done for him and still assume he has been kept from all of them, so I did another one, which the audio only is attached.

George and his siblings, if you want to see an example of what it is to be a flawed man attempting to follow the commands of the Lord Jesus Christ, you might want to skip Jim Cross or Chris Bitterman and consider your dad. The Lord's command to love is seen in communications, not isolation. The grace of the Lord is seen in the Scripture, not the Talmud. Showing love for people is stepping into their homes and not driving by and praying for them. The example of the Lord is His reconciliation with those who in their pride rejected Him. That is my model, but the Lord is perfect and I am flawed. Do you see that?

When anyone is interested in a serious dialog, as I describe in the video that I had with my friend Chris, I'm available to you as long as I have breath.

When anyone is interested in a surface dialog, as I describe in the video that I had with my friend Gary, I'm available to you as long as I have breath.

This will be blocked from George. The evidence is overwhelming. If it isn't blocked from you, I am available.

Most importantly, I remain committed to and wholeheartedly in love with my wife. There is no evidence that that is shared, but it doesn't matter as I am a follower of the Lord Jesus Christ and I have no other option in obedience to Him. Those in the Christian club won't see that. Those who pick up a Bible and read what it says will. Please let her know that her husband remains available to her and her alone. Even if I never hear about it, she needs to know I love her. Please let her know.

I love you all.
