Susanna and Family,

After using Titus 2 with Gloria-Jane yesterday, it seemed appropriate to use 1st Peter 3 for you. I think I got a bit politically incorrect. But that should be no surprise for anyone who knows me.

You have gone through a lot of your formative years without your dad there as he was kept from you. I can't reconcile the family alone, so this is my attempt to at least offer you a bit of love by pointing you to what I contend will be pivotal in your life, obedience to Christ. I have no idea if you embrace Him or have rejected Him as some others have. Irrespective of what it is, I will point you to the Lord Jesus Christ and He is not the one found in the institutional Church, but in the pages of Scripture.

If you study 1st Peter 3, you will see in verse 6 that you are not to "fear anything that is frightening" or literally have a phobia about things that are scary or frightening, but rather in verse 15 to have a "gentleness and respect", which is again literally phobia. But the first use is a scared fear, the second is a respectful fear, as also seen in verse 2 and Ephesians 5:33. Just because you don't see that lived out in front of you that should not prevent you from living it out yourself.

I so desire a dialog with you. It would be a joy to spend time with you. Like George, you are nearing being emancipated. Please feel invited to spend time here with me. As you have heard before, my home is your home. I have room here. Feel free to make use of it.

Lord willing your mom and I will reconcile beforehand. I ask for that.

I love you all!

The video got a bit long, so only the audio is attached.
