Madge, and Family,

Since we haven't spoken in some time, I got a little carried away in addressing you. The audio of the video is attached, and the video is being processed to go online when this email is sent. However, you should expect to find it on DVD in your mailbox in a few days. Like the ones that arrived in the PO Box for Susanna, it wouldn't surprise me that it will be kept from you. Actually, considering the number of things that have happened in recent months, I am have a high degree of confidence you will not know this was sent, of if somehow you find out about it, you will not listen to or especially watch the video. But it is there, as are the other videos in my effort to see reconciliation start by Dorothy-Jane and my 30th anniversary, and the dozens of videos to George in response to his email to me, and the 900 consecutive voicemails in my attempt to talk with my kids, and the hours upon hours of videos, and a rather large stack of emails including the voicemail email which is now about 250 pages long.

I'm not giving up on reconciling my family. Please, join me in that effort. Also, as so often before, please tell my wife I love her!
