Susanna,

The day has come and you are now 18. Happy Birthday!

It seems unlikely that I will be seeing you today, but I want you to know that your dad loves you!

You should have received a DVD from me that has all the stuff I have done for you over the years. I hope you find both joy in it and see my love for you.

While I jokingly say that I sing "Happy Birthday" to my kids as punishment, I hope you find what else is said in the video as love from your dad. The audio of today's video, including that dreaded punishment, is attached.

Please consider giving me a call. Feel free to stop by. Remember what you have heard many times, my home is your home.

I love you my girl!
